

THE GIN PALACE

The Melbourne Gin Palace was shut down on 18 October 1870 by a Magistrate for being in a filthy and disgusting condition. Even though Vernon Chalker couldn't prove that any members of his emancipist family were directly involved in the operation of this lurid establishment, he felt a strong, somewhat mystical, calling to resurrect its reputation and bring back the glory of the Gin Palace once enjoyed by royalty, magnates, swindlers and cads during the Marvelous Melbourne gold rush era. 115 years, 6 months and 16 days after its ignominious closure the Gin Palace re-opened its doors to great fanfare, tempting Melbourne's elite to enjoy a magnificent selection of luxurious libations fit for a new era of vulgar consumption. Oh, how the Martinis and Champagne flowed like a raging, sparkling river of heady debauchery every night of the week.

Our list of gins features vast quantities of the best and worst gins in the world.

Peruse the menu at your leisure; however please don't hesitate to ask the knowledgeable staff should you need clarification on the myriad of mysteries surrounding these complex liquids. Please be aware however that some of us are employed for our looks alone; therefore there may be need to consult an always available higher authority.

Our cocktail list is influenced by rare and seasonal ingredients. We use fine quality fresh produce and exotic (some almost extinct) botanicals to make a daring range of syrups, tinctures, cordials and sodas. Our gin & tonic list is dazzling. Lashings of your preferred gin served in a capacious goblet matched with ripe fruits and paired with a tonic that suits it best. We have numerous different varieties of tonic waters to choose from. If that is not good enough, tell one of our exuberant staff and they will no doubt attempt to make a distinct version for your imbibing.

Gin is not all.

The bar is well stocked with many other corrupting temptations that are listed below. Late last century we were voted one of Melbourne's 50 best restaurants based solely on the undeniable saucy deliciousness of our world famous toasted chicken and mayonnaise sandwiches.

MARTINIS

This list is inspired by what we drink when we knock off work, kick off our shoes, then sit back into the wee hours and enjoy a martini for ourselves.

All Martini's are 90mls, how they should be.

Hendrick's Wet Martini

Hendrick's gin, house-made rose infused Lillet Rosé, lavender

Everyone's favourite gin served with an amped up floral twist.

$28

Poor Tom's Wet Martini

Poor Tom's gin, house-made mandarin infused Lillet Blanc, orange twist

If ever there was a gin that epitomises Autumn, this local Sydney based gin would be it. A light, floral and delicate option perfect for a balmy Autumn eve.

$28

Botanist Sherry Kicker Martini

Botanist Dry gin, La Goya Manzanilla sherry, lime twist

This herbaceous love affair between Islay and Jerez will leave you itching for another. The resultant love child between botanists, winemakers and bartenders is dry, savoury and ever so complex.

$30

Rolls Royce Martini

Beefeater 24 gin, Baltazar white vermouth, Maidenii sweet vermouth, D.O.M. Benedictine, lemon twist

While the exact history has been lost to the ages, the Rolls Royce was first recorded in the 1930s Savoy Cocktail Book and was considered the height of luxury. This cocktail is a version of the wet and perfect martinis of the late 19th century. This concoction is an excellent introduction for those wanting to explore the world of martinis.

$24

Wet & Dirty Martini

Manly Spirits dry gin, Maidenii dry vermouth, olive brine, rosemary, olives

The coastal influence of the sea drives this savoury style martini to flavours into uncharted territory. This all-Australian pairing delivers a bold impression upon the palate, with native botanicals here captaining the ship. The Gin Palace take on a dirty martini.

$28

MARTINIS

Melbourne Cup Day 1997; the Gin Palace opened its doors and liberated the repressed Australian Martini imbiber from the shackles of sweet fruity pedestrian cocktails of the eighties and nineties. These five Martinis have stood the test of time and have remained on the list from that day forth.

Dry Martini

Plymouth gin, Noilly Prat dry vermouth, olives

The staple of Gin Palace, of course you can have a twist or take it wet, change the gin, even the vermouth, or just have it naked. It's up to you; please ask us for advice on how to tailor your martini to you.

$23

Barrel Aged Martinez

Plymouth gin, Maidenii sweet vermouth, maraschino liqueur, Angostura original aromatic & orange bitters, lemon twist

We take a traditional recipe and rest it in a small barrel behind the bar for 6 weeks. This softens out the rough edges and helps all those different ingredients blend together in textural fabulousness.

$24

Orange

Plymouth gin, Noilly Prat dry vermouth, Maidenii sweet vermouth, orange zest, Angostura original aromatic bitters, orange twist

Adapted from the famous Savoy cocktail book of the 1930's, we soak orange zest in gin, dry & sweet vermouth for a week before bottling.

$23

Vesper

Plymouth gin, Beluga vodka, Cocchi Americano, shaken, lemon twist

James Bond likes to not only add vodka to his martini, but also shake it. Usually seen as a no-no, for some reason this cocktail works, making it a yes yes.

$23

1951

Plymouth gin, Noilly Prat dry vermouth, Cointreau liqueur, anchovy stuffed olives

The martini that won the 1951 martini competition in Chicago balances the sweetness of Cointreau with the saltiness of anchovy stuffed olives.

$23

GIN & TONICS

Our G&T's are 50ml serves of gin paired with an appropriate tonic. We then select garnishes that will accentuate the notes of both the gin and the tonic. Grandly served in a fabulous Burgundy glass, it is quite fancy and will make you feel so.

Plymouth & pH-enomenal Tonic

Garnished with lemon, thyme & flowers

Classic meets curious. Plymouth dry gin paired with a lip puckering German tonic syrup, which displays high notes of orange and lemon citrus.

$26

East London Liquor Company & Bittermilk Charred Grapefruit Tonic Syrup

Garnished with grapefruit, salted caramel fudge & cardamom pods

Made at a small craft distillery in East London, this classically dry gin utilises grapefruit and cardamom, enhanced with a powerful, citrus tonic syrup.

$27

Hendricks & Fever-Tree Elderflower Tonic or Hendricks Quinatum Tonic Syrup

Garnished with frozen strawberries, cucumber & dried rose

The gin of the moment paired with a tonic made with elderflower, or their very own syrup designed to match Hendricks perfectly. We took inspiration from the botanicals used in Hendricks of cucumber and rose to produce a beverage reminiscent of an English garden.

$26/$27

Pimms No. 1 & Capi Tonic

Garnished with orange, cucumber & mint

The quintessential English gin-based fruit cup served with classic tonic and traditional garnishes. Sometimes traditions need to be upheld.

$16

Four Pillars Dry or Navy Strength & Fever-Tree Indian Tonic

Garnished with Four Pillars marmalade, apple & bay leaf

Four Pillars gin combines classic botanicals with a few modern twists, including whole oranges, star anise and Tasmanian pepperberry leaf. Those same oranges then get turned into a botanically-infused marmalade post-distillation. We thought that was too fancy not to be included in a G&T. Now to decide whether to choose the classic dry, or dare to attempt the robust Navy strength.

$26/$30

GIN & TONICS

We can do many other pairings if you should find you have made your way through the list. Feel free to ask a staff member for a custom pairing for you.

Beefeater 24 & Jack Rudy Tonic Syrup

Garnished with grapes, pear & cinnamon

An iconic, citrus forward London Dry gin is here used in an unexpected combination of ingredients. The complex flavours of Jack Rudy tonic syrup are here complimented by signature garnishes. A delicate way to start your night.

$20

Colombo & Tiro Tonic

Garnished with lime, curry leaf & ginger

A Sri Lankan inspired gin with an intriguing yet impressively harmonized set of botanicals, including curry leaf, ginger and cinnamon. Take a walk on the wild set and embrace this botanical bombshell.

$25

Martin Miller's Reform & Capi Tonic

Garnished with lemon, cucumber & dill

Martin Miller was a womanizing Bon Vivant who made fortunes through antiques and as a hotelier. His lust for the perfect Martini sent him on a quest to procure the finest ingredients thus utilizing Icelandic glacial water to dilute a truly English expression of gin.

Crisp and refreshing, a great alternative to the classic dry gin category.

$24

Melbourne Gin Company & Fever-Tree Mediterranean Tonic

Garnished with grapefruit, flowers & Melbourne Rooftop Honey paint

This delicate and floral combination combines two of Melbourne's finest made consumables. As the gin cascades over your palate, the aroma of honey adds an extra dimension to the sensory experience.

Hans Reistbauer Blue Sloe Gin & Strong Hibiscus Tonic Syrup

Garnished with orange, pear & walnut

Forget what you know about sloe gin being sweet. This sharp Austrian gin is perfect for those who enjoy a little zing in their life! This Autumn inspired G&T is tart and juicy.

$24

COCKTAILS

Our cocktail list experiments with only the finest ingredients and gins, and is based around what is 'so-hot-right-now'!

We aim to provide a cocktail to your palate, so please let the staff know if there is anything we can do for you, classic or otherwise.

Autumn Cup

Gin Palace house-made fruit cup, lemon sherbet, ginger syrup, soda, apple, grapes

The most commonly known fruit cup is Pimms. Try our version which involves soaking gin with Ancient Moonlight white tea and citrus peel for a week then lusciously sweetened with citrus and gingery spice. The perfect refreshment for Melbourne's four seasons in one day.

Peanut Butter Genever Time

Bols Corenmyn genever, house-made peanut butter infused gum acacia, Angostura aromatic bitters, accoutrement

Favouring robust winter spices, delectable notes of honey and a hint of vanilla, there's no better pairing for this spirit of old than with our house made peanut butter syrup. Smooth and creamy, this rich nightcap somehow tastes better at 2am. Don't believe me? Try it for yourself.

Gin Zombie

Hobart No.4 Single Malt gin, navy strength gin, aged gin, sloe gin, gin, gin, and more gin, fresh pineapple juice, lime juice, barrel aged Negroni syrup

This high octane Polynesian inspired swill will ensue a zombie like numbness. We insist on no more than 2 per sitting as the result will have you muttering "brains".

$33

Brookie's Cobbler

Brookie's gin, La Goya Manzanilla sherry, house-made blood orange shrub, lemon juice, mint, berries

So you've finally sat down and loosened your layers, then perhaps it's time for something crisp and zesty? An overtly sessionable drink served ice cold! Try not to give yourself a brain freeze gulping down this little number!

Fall From the Tree

Bols Corenmyn genever, Marionette dry curacao, Blue Elephant dry Pink Lady apple cider, apple

As you cling to the fleeting warm weather, sit back, relax and drink a beverage that has been artfully crafted to capture the very essence of a warm Autumn evening. Autumnal flavours abound for those seeking a lighter style cocktail.

$16

CLASSIC COCKTAILS

These are the staff favourite cocktails from the last few centuries.

London Calling

Plymouth gin, La Goya Manzanilla sherry, lemon juice, sugar syrup, Angostura orange bitters, grapefruit twist

A modern classic that is barely in its teens, bringing Sherry back into favour with bartenders and consumers alike. Dry, sour, citrus and sharp, this brings something for everyone to the table.

$20

Pegu Club

Plymouth gin, Cointreau, lime juice, Angostura orange bitters, Angostura aromatic bitters, lime

This mouth-puckering cocktail was invented in the bar of its own name, The Pegu Club, which originates from the unusual area of Myanmar. This cocktail was originally served to British soldiers in the late 19th century and was first printed in The Savoy Cocktail book. It has been brought back into popularity by Manhattan bar also named The Pegu Club, opened in 2005.

$22

Hanky Panky

Plymouth gin, Maidenii sweet vermouth, Fernet Branca, lemon twist

Created by legendary bartender, Ada Coleman, who was head of the Savoy's American Bar from 1903 until her retirement in 1926. So created for a weary customer who was seeking a punchy pick-me-up and remains to this day, one hundred years later, the ultimate swizzle for those in search of ever more flavour in their glass.

$24

Flora Dora

Plymouth gin, house-made ginger syrup, house-made raspberry syrup, lime juice, soda, lime & ginger garnish

Named after a hugely successful comedic play in 1899, this cocktail has been adapted into many forms since its inception in 1933 but has always remained true to its fresh, bright and citrusy flavours.

The Bee's Knees

Plymouth gin, lemon juice, house-made Melbourne Rooftop Honey syrup, lemon twist

Emerging from the Prohibition era as a result of illicit American gin production. Bartenders of the day would balance a then illegal bathtub gin with fresh citrus and the sweet, floral undertones of honey syrup.

NEGRONIS

A bartender staple for years, this wonderful drink centers around the red, Italian, bitter Campari. Here we have a selection of delicious variations based around gins and vermouths.

Classic Negroni

Plymouth gin, Maidenii sweet vermouth, Campari, orange twist

Boozy gin, local vermouth and the all-important Campari, need we say more?

$24

Floral Negroni

Stone Pine orange blossom gin, Dolin blanc vermouth, Campari, lemon oils, orange blossom fairy floss

An aromatic and complex Australian gin utilising local orange blossoms is balanced alongside a fabulous French vermouth and, of course, Campari.

$25

Japanese Negroni

Beefeater 24 gin, plum wine, Campari, grapefruit twist

The sweetness of plum wine in place of vermouth works ever so pleasantly with the drying Sencha tea aspect in Beefeater 24. Perfect for those searching for a more delicate Negroni.

$24

White Negroni

East London Liquor Company dry gin, Chartreuse Yellow, Escubac, lemon twist

A rather unusual twist on the Negroni ensuring a multitude of flavours swirling across your palate. Gin is here combined with two herbaceous French liqueurs, resulting in the bittersweet flavours you are used to in the Negroni in a whole new shade.

$28

Australian Negroni

78 Degrees gin, Adelaide Hills 'Bitter Italian', Adelaide Hills sweet vermouth, orange twist

Taking the best of South Australia, we have combined three Adelaide Hills Distillery products into one fabulous Negroni. Their local take on Campari utilises riberry to give classical bitter sweet flavours and works perfectly alongside their gin and vermouth.

$23

1 Year Old Negroni

Plymouth gin, Maidenii sweet vermouth, Campari, orange twist

We have taken our already delicious classic Negroni and aged it for 1 year. This bottle rested version will have deeper complexity and marriage of flavours.

$36

SCOTTISH GIN

Scotland is one of the other countries championing their native botanicals; The Botanist gin boasts 22 natives. Scotland is home to one of the gin greats. Tanqueray and their No. 10 is up there with two of our favourites. The gin of the moment also calls Scotland home – Hendricks; the gin that put the cucumber in your G&T.

BUBBLES

When Vernon opened Gin Palace in 1997 it was his vision that people were either drinking martinis or Champagne. While our product listing has grown over the years, Vernon has always felt the same way, which is why we offer a range of sparkling in various sizes from various vintages, and all reassuringly expensive.

BEER

All our beer is Victorian craft brewed. We have a strong focus on attaining the best of a select few styles.

Lager

Holgate Lager 12

Woodend

ABV: 4.3% Size: 330ml Style: Helles lager IBU: 15

Cider

Blue Elephant Cider #1 14

Harcourt

ABV: 6.5% Size: 330ml Style: Apple Cider

KOPSTOOTJE

A “Kop-stow-sche” translates literally as “Little head butt.” This is a long standing Dutch tradition were you sip Genever alongside your brew. Basically: beer, a shot and an accoutrement.

Holgate Lager
