WHO IS PAPPY?

Benjamin 'Pappy' Butler, was born in Carmichael, Mississippi, back in 1915. He lived a long and full life in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, until he reached the remarkable age of 97. In that time, he had three children, including his son David, known affectionately as 'Papaw'. It was through Papaw's lineage that our story becomes what it is; a story of how a southern gentleman ended up with a bar named after him all the way down under...

Fate intervened when Pappy's granddaughter, Leigh crossed paths with an Aussie, Philip in a karaoke bar in New Orleans. She caught his attention with her 'almost' spot on Australian accent, that lasted all of five minutes before he caught onto her southern drawl. A year later, she bid farewell to her life in Jackson and found herself settling down in rural NSW and starting a family of her own.

Their journey from Jackson, Mississippi to New South Wales led them to welcome a daughter who found her way to the bustling city life of Sydney's CBD, carving out her place in the world of hospitality. And thus, Pappy's Bar was born—a unique blend of Southern warmth and Australian spirit. It's the story of how two very different lives intertwined and ultimately created the cozy haven you're enjoying your drink in right now!

Southern Hospitality is all about welcoming guests into your home and having them leave as friends, and that's exactly what we strive to do. Pappy's Bar is our home, and we hope you enjoy your stay!
